CURRICULUM COMMITTEE MEETING
NOVEMBER 27, 1995

The LCBAS Curriculum Committee met on November 27, 1995 at 10:00 a.m. in the Dean's Conference Room.

Members Present: T. Ivarie, K. Ketler, R. Kopel (Chair), N. Marlow, P. McAlister, C. Noll,
D. Sims, G. Strandberg
Visitors: R. Luft, S. Michelson

COMMUNICATIONS

Curriculum Committee minutes from other colleges were distributed. A question regarding clarification of the distribution of the LCBAS minutes was asked and P. McAlister responded that we should check with the President's Office for the current distribution list and whether it is acceptable to distribute the minutes electronically.

MINUTES OF NOVEMBER 6, 1995

N. Marlow (McAlister) moved to approve the November 6, 1995 minutes with the following revision: "...concerns with the elimination of BED 3300 because majors in one concentration (Consumer Affairs) within the School of Family and Consumer Sciences..." Motion carried.

NEW SENIOR SEMINAR PROPOSAL

R. Luft and S. Michelson presented a revised Senior Seminar proposal for EIU 4057C. A copy of the revised proposal with the changes outlined was distributed. This is a compromise of the two earlier senior seminar proposals. Finance majors are excluded; a large demand for this course is expected and multiple sections will be offered; a lower level textbook is more suited for a seminar course. There is no need for the Senior Seminar Committee to vote on this proposal again. It was suggested that no reference to the elimination of BED 3300 be made in the proposal but R. Luft said it is required by the guidelines.

P. McAlister responded to a question about the effect of the elimination of BED 3300 on the School of Family and Consumer Sciences. It will not pose a major concern for Consumer Affairs majors since it has not been offered in quite some time. Those majors will be encouraged to take the new course.

T. Ivarie said that C. Evans has provided dollars for Senior Seminars and multiple sections will be provided for throughout the year. A question about overload and C.U.'s was asked and T. Ivarie said that would vary by department.

A vote was taken and the proposal passed unanimously.
